

Sequel to "Under the Moons of Mars"

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS Author of the Tarzan Stories

CHAPTER VII A Dater of the First-born FOR an instant the black pirate and I remained motionless, glaring into each other's eyes. Then a grim smile curled the handsome lips above me as my hand came slowly to my forehead. The edge of the deck and the cold eye of a revolver sought the center of my forehead. Simultaneously my free hand shot out for the black throat just within reach and the ebony finger lightened on the trigger. The pirate's hissing, "Die, cursed thief!" was half choked by his wild yells as he clutched fingers.

CHAPTER VI—(Continued). THE craft awayed slightly, but did not move. Then a new cry of warning broke upon our ears. Turning, I saw a dozen black pirates dashing toward us from the pier. We had been discovered.

With shrieks of rage the demons sprang for us. With frenzied insistence I continued to press the little button which should have sent us racing into open space, but still the vessel refused to budge. Then it came to me the reason that she would not rise.

We had stumbled upon a two-man flyer. The blacks were nearly upon us. There was not an instant to be lost in hesitation or doubt.

I pressed the button far in and locked it. This I set the lever at high speed, and as the blacks came yelling upon me I slipped from the craft's deck, and with drawn longsword met the attack.

At the same moment a girl's shriek rang out behind upon me. I heard far above my head and faintly Thuvia's voice: "My prince, O my prince, I would rather remain dead with you."

The rest was lost in the noise of my assailants. I knew, though, that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

For a moment it seemed that I could not withstand the weight of numbers that confronted me, but again, as on so many other occasions when I had been called upon to face fearful odds upon this planet of warriors and fierce beasts, I found that my ruse had worked, and that, temporarily at least, Thuvia and the blacks were safe, and the means of escape was there.

MRS. KLINGLESMTIH SEES BRIGHT FUTURE FOR HER SEX IN LAW

Prominent Penn Scholar Says Women Destined to Occupy Important Place in Legal Profession

TELLS WAY TO SUCCESS Education used to be considered a matter of three P's—patience, perseverance and push.

Mrs. Klinglesmith took her degree in law from the University of Pennsylvania in 1913 and ever since that time she has devoted her efforts not to the more or less public court life of a woman lawyer, but to research work, delving into huge legal tomes and studying the history of the law. Volumes that are published annually, so that the youth of the University who are taking law courses may have the best and newest works of their discipline.

HER GREAT AMBITION! Building up the Biddle Law Library is the pet ambition of Mrs. Klinglesmith. She is justly proud of its present state, because she knows how much more it is now than when she first entered it.

There were only 10,000 books here when I came. I always had ideas on how a library should be conducted, and since that time I have put them into practice, with very pleasing results. Twice I was sent over to Europe to buy books for this library.

MINISTER WILL LEAVE WITH CAVALRY REGIMENT Rev. Robert O'Boyle Takes Up Duties Tomorrow as Chaplain

The Rev. Robert O'Boyle, pastor of St. John's Reformed Church, 40th and Spring Garden streets, chaplain of the First Cavalry Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, Knights Templar, for several years, will leave tomorrow morning for duty, unless sooner called to his regiment.

SANTA DEFIES HEAT; HERE AGAIN Will Have Something for Children at Woodside Park, Saturday, July 8—Band Concerts

A midsummer Santa Claus is to visit Woodside Park on Saturday, July 8. He will not chamber down a sooty chimney with toy-laden pack, but will hide in different parts of the pleasure ground coupons bearing numbers entitling the finders to receive gifts ranging from a pair of tennis balls to Teddy bears, baby carriages, games and other novelties.

RELIGIOUS BREVITIES "Righteousness in Business" and "Obedience to the Law" were the subjects of the sermon preached tomorrow at the Temple Lutheran church, 15th and Locust streets, by the Rev. Dr. H. W. C. Smith, pastor of the church.

OUTDOOR EVANGELICAL WORK Presbyterian Committee to Begin Summer Campaign The Presbyterian Committee for summer work, open air, automobile and daily vacation Bible school work will inaugurate its 16th summer season in evangelistic work July 5. The campaign will continue six weeks, until August 15.

EDITOR IN THE PULPIT James Schermerhorn to Speak in Friendly Lutheran Church A newspaper man will occupy the pulpit of the Friendly Lutheran Church, 16th and Locust streets, when James Schermerhorn, editor of the Detroit Times, Detroit, speaks there at 7:45 tomorrow night. He speaks at the Friendly Church as the guest of the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

WELCOMING CHANGING AT THE FRIENDLY LUTHERAN Church, 16th and Locust streets, tomorrow morning, 11:00 a. m., Sunday School, 10:00 a. m., and a special service, 9:00 a. m., by the pastor, the Rev. David E. Weigle.

STONEMEN AND THEIR FAMILIES AT THE SHORE FOR DAY'S RECREATION

Between 4000 and 5000 Go to Atlantic City, Where They Receive a Cordial Welcome

PARADE ON BOARDWALK Today is Stonemen's Day in Atlantic City.

The key to this popular and famous resort was handed to the members of the fellowship early this morning, and they are now enjoying the inviting breezes at the shore, together with the members of their families and friends. Between 4000 and 5000 members of the fellowship left the city this morning for the Philadelphia and Reading Railway system.

The trip was planned several weeks ago, and extensive arrangements were made for insuring a day of real justification for the members of the organization and their families. It was believed that 10,000 men would go, but on account of the railroads being taxed by their capacity in transporting the National Guard to Mt. Gretna, it was impossible to provide accommodations for all of the men who wanted to go; but it is safely estimated that nearly 5000 members of the fellowship and their families left this morning.

The fellowship bands and orchestras also went along, and will furnish the music in the mammoth parade which is scheduled this afternoon on the Boardwalk. Transportation Agent Kripke of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, was in Atlantic City yesterday, and upon his return last night said Atlantic City had made arrangements to feed and care for the visitors.

The task of handling so many persons is not a small one for the railroads. The trip today will exceed in magnitude the previous trips of the Stonemen to Seaside and the Pittsburgh. While the trip to the shore today is one for justification, there will be some exercises conducted on the Million-Dollar Pier, which is the heart of the organization. The Rev. H. C. Stone, will make an address. It costs each man, or member of his family, only $1 for the round trip, and 50 cents for children.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION TO CONVENE HERE Large Presbyterian Body Will Hold Three Days' Session

Delegates from every State in the Union and many parts of Canada will assemble in Philadelphia, Wednesday, to attend the 25th annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. This is the largest annual assembly of young people in the history of the Church, according to officials of the Church.

The session will last from June 28 to July 2, and will be held at the Norris Square Y. P. C. U. building, 12th and Market streets. The Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church, Hancock street and Susquehanna avenue.

There are 20,000 members in the organization. J. H. Clay, of this city, chairman of the local committee in charge of the meeting, estimates there will be about 1500 delegates in Philadelphia, Wednesday, to attend the 25th annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. This is the largest annual assembly of young people in the history of the Church, according to officials of the Church.

The session will last from June 28 to July 2, and will be held at the Norris Square Y. P. C. U. building, 12th and Market streets. The Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church, Hancock street and Susquehanna avenue.

There are 20,000 members in the organization. J. H. Clay, of this city, chairman of the local committee in charge of the meeting, estimates there will be about 1500 delegates in Philadelphia, Wednesday, to attend the 25th annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. This is the largest annual assembly of young people in the history of the Church, according to officials of the Church.

The session will last from June 28 to July 2, and will be held at the Norris Square Y. P. C. U. building, 12th and Market streets. The Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church, Hancock street and Susquehanna avenue.

There are 20,000 members in the organization. J. H. Clay, of this city, chairman of the local committee in charge of the meeting, estimates there will be about 1500 delegates in Philadelphia, Wednesday, to attend the 25th annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. This is the largest annual assembly of young people in the history of the Church, according to officials of the Church.

The session will last from June 28 to July 2, and will be held at the Norris Square Y. P. C. U. building, 12th and Market streets. The Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church, Hancock street and Susquehanna avenue.

There are 20,000 members in the organization. J. H. Clay, of this city, chairman of the local committee in charge of the meeting, estimates there will be about 1500 delegates in Philadelphia, Wednesday, to attend the 25th annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. This is the largest annual assembly of young people in the history of the Church, according to officials of the Church.

The session will last from June 28 to July 2, and will be held at the Norris Square Y. P. C. U. building, 12th and Market streets. The Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church, Hancock street and Susquehanna avenue.

There are 20,000 members in the organization. J. H. Clay, of this city, chairman of the local committee in charge of the meeting, estimates there will be about 1500 delegates in Philadelphia, Wednesday, to attend the 25th annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. This is the largest annual assembly of young people in the history of the Church, according to officials of the Church.

The session will last from June 28 to July 2, and will be held at the Norris Square Y. P. C. U. building, 12th and Market streets. The Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church, Hancock street and Susquehanna avenue.

There are 20,000 members in the organization. J. H. Clay, of this city, chairman of the local committee in charge of the meeting, estimates there will be about 1500 delegates in Philadelphia, Wednesday, to attend the 25th annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. This is the largest annual assembly of young people in the history of the Church, according to officials of the Church.

The session will last from June 28 to July 2, and will be held at the Norris Square Y. P. C. U. building, 12th and Market streets. The Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church, Hancock street and Susquehanna avenue.

There are 20,000 members in the organization. J. H. Clay, of this city, chairman of the local committee in charge of the meeting, estimates there will be about 1500 delegates in Philadelphia, Wednesday, to attend the 25th annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. This is the largest annual assembly of young people in the history of the Church, according to officials of the Church.

The session will last from June 28 to July 2, and will be held at the Norris Square Y. P. C. U. building, 12th and Market streets. The Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church, Hancock street and Susquehanna avenue.

There are 20,000 members in the organization. J. H. Clay, of this city, chairman of the local committee in charge of the meeting, estimates there will be about 1500 delegates in Philadelphia, Wednesday, to attend the 25th annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. This is the largest annual assembly of young people in the history of the Church, according to officials of the Church.

The session will last from June 28 to July 2, and will be held at the Norris Square Y. P. C. U. building, 12th and Market streets. The Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church, Hancock street and Susquehanna avenue.

There are 20,000 members in the organization. J. H. Clay, of this city, chairman of the local committee in charge of the meeting, estimates there will be about 1500 delegates in Philadelphia, Wednesday, to attend the 25th annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church of North America. This is the largest annual assembly of young people in the history of the Church, according to officials of the Church.

WOMEN ALREADY BUSY ON SOLDIERS' SUPPLIES FOR MEXICO CAMPAIGN

Emergency Aid "Mobilizes" Its Vast Machinery to Furnish Surgical Needs of Uncle Sam's Men

SOCIETY LEADERS WORK The Emergency Aid, the leading relief organization in the United States, is preparing to set its machinery in motion for the relief of the injured and sick soldiers and to perform its other duties that the authorities shall designate in the event of war with Mexico, according to an announcement made yesterday at a special meeting of the committee in charge of this humanitarian organization.

The session was called to ratify the action of Mrs. A. J. Cassatt, chairman of the Executive Committee, in pledging the support of the Emergency Aid to Mayor Smith in connection with his plans for the relief of families of soldiers. The majority of the women present came from their country or weathered homes in order to "mobilize" for relief work in this country.

It was decided that, in the event of war with Mexico, the chairman of the various committees for the relief of soldiers and non-combatants, as well as the various committees abroad will constitute an executive committee for relief work in the United States.

WILL BEGIN AT ONCE. An every department of the Emergency Aid is thoroughly organized, the relief work will be started immediately after Mayor Smith accepts the committee's offer.

The Emergency Aid has discontinued shipment of surgical supplies to Europe and is storing quantities of dressings at the headquarters at 1428 Walnut street. Mrs. Reed A. Morgan, chairman of the Philadelphia County Auxiliary of the Red Cross, and Mrs. Rodman E. Griscom, chairman of the Surgical Dressings Committee of Pennsylvania, have notified their workers to invest their time in making dressings as possible use in Mexico. Mrs. Griscom has requested 96 sub-chairmen of sections in Pennsylvania to prepare all dressings, until further notice, for the use of the United States army.

During the last few days the force of volunteers who are making surgical dressings at the headquarters has steadily increased. Presbyterian churches in many cities have visited the headquarters daily since last Monday to volunteer their services for any work that the committee will perform in connection with this campaign of women worked like beavers making dressings in the Red Cross room all day yesterday.

Because of the numerous requests made by working women for instructions in first aid and bandage making, Mrs. Morgan decided to start night classes beginning next week.

GIRLS OFFER ASSISTANCE. Included among the applicants was a group of 50 girls who are employed by the Curtis Publishing Company. Others are employed in industrial plants, stores and offices in the city. Up to 1000 girls they will be invited to make surgical dressings if the committee has no other duties for them to perform.

The Home Relief Committee, which has done such splendid work since the war started, is prepared to begin at once the work of relieving the families of soldiers and sailors, according to Mrs. John C. Crook, chairman of the Home Relief Committee. The committee had expended $164,593.40 in relief work here, and has a balance in the treasury of $109,675.

A subcommittee is prepared for work in every ward of the city. It is the duty of every member of the subcommittee to investigate all applicants applying for aid. The work in the wards is done under the direction of Mrs. John C. Crook, who has been highly successful. In addition to the ward committees the Home Relief Committee has at its disposal a trained investigator in each ward.

Conspicuous in the relief work for the Government will be the recently organized American Committee, which is headed by Mrs. Edward Browning and Mrs. Arthur Brown. Among the officers of this committee will be to raise money and to supply kits for soldiers.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES FRIENDS' SELECT SCHOOL BOYS—140 N. 10TH ST.—GIRLS—140 N. 10TH ST.—The Friends' School, 140 N. 10th street, is a thoroughly modern school, with a long history of worthy traditions. Elementary and High School departments. Under the direction of Miss E. M. Marshall, principal. Catalogue, Miss E. M. Marshall, Oak Lane, Philadelphia.

WALTER W. HAVILAND, Principal. FRIENDS' CENTRAL And its Elementary Schools offer a graded course of education from kindergarten to college. JOHN W. CAIR, Ph. D., Principal. 10th and Race Sts.

Strayer's Business College Summer School now open. Day and night. Tuition advanced. Charges moderate. Begins next week. Strayer Business College, 224 N. 2nd St., Philadelphia.

GEORGE SCHOOL, BUCKS CO., PA. George School, also Anne Dormitory Buildings, College Preparatory, also Manual Training and Domestic Science. Principal, George A. Walton, A. M., Prin., Box 285, Bucks Co., Pa.

YOUNG LADIES AND GIRLS MISS MARSHALL'S SCHOOL FOR GIRLS Character building, manual training, art, music, preparatory and general courses. Miss Art, Philadelphia. Catalogue, Miss E. M. Marshall, Oak Lane, Philadelphia.

DEVON, PA. SPIERS JUNIOR SCHOOL—A country day and boarding school for boys, 8 to 14. Through students' work. MARK H. C. SPIERS, HEADMASTER. Box 259, Devon, Pa.

BLAIR ACADEMY General education and preparation for college. Character building, manual training, art, music, preparatory and general courses. Miss Art, Philadelphia. Catalogue, Miss E. M. Marshall, Oak Lane, Philadelphia.

WENONAH MILITARY ACADEMY 12 miles from Philadelphia. In town without accommodations. U. S. Army Officer detailed. Best equipped. Physical and moral training. Catalogue, Principal, WENONAH, N. J., Ph. B. 892.

BOBIDENTOWN MILITARY INSTITUTE 12 miles from Philadelphia. In town without accommodations. U. S. Army Officer detailed. Best equipped. Physical and moral training. Catalogue, Principal, BOBIDENTOWN, N. J., Ph. B. 892.

Y. CENTRAL NATATORIUM Water charged daily. Three months, $2.00. Water membership, $7.00. Box 285, Bucks Co., Pa.

THE YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA, Missionary Society, 10th and Market streets, Philadelphia. Catalogue, Box 285, Bucks Co., Pa.

THE YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA, Missionary Society, 10th and Market streets, Philadelphia. Catalogue, Box 285, Bucks Co., Pa.

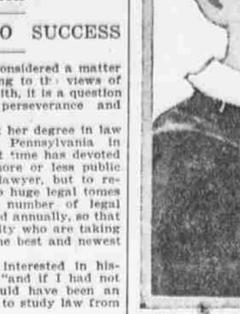

THE YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA, Missionary Society, 10th and Market streets, Philadelphia. Catalogue, Box 285, Bucks Co., Pa.

THE YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA, Missionary Society, 10th and Market streets, Philadelphia. Catalogue, Box 285, Bucks Co., Pa.

THE YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA, Missionary Society, 10th and Market streets, Philadelphia. Catalogue, Box 285, Bucks Co., Pa.

PHILADELPHIAN STARTS SHORE FLAG CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Harrison J. Smith Demands Wide Display of National Colors at Atlantic

MRS. M. KLINGLESMTIH PHILADELPHIAN STARTS SHORE FLAG CAMPAIGN Mrs. Harrison J. Smith Demands Wide Display of National Colors at Atlantic

ATLANTIC CITY, June 24.—To put the American flag upon every hotel, store and place of amusement along the Boardwalk, as well as on every municipal and business building elsewhere in Atlantic City, and keep it flying as long as the present crisis lasts, was the object of a campaign launched here by Mrs. Harrison J. Smith, a Philadelphia society woman, who is stopping at the Traymore. Her home in Philadelphia is at the Aldine. Her son, Hoar Harrison Smith, is a member of the 1st City Troop.

Surprised and displeased to find that some of the hotels and many of the Boardwalk shops lacked even a single flag, in the face of the added incentive that this is the carnival season at the shore, Mrs. Harrison carried a message of protest to no less than 3000 managers and Boardwalk shopkeepers this morning. Without exception they at once complied with her request for the display of the national colors. Many agreed to display the flag on their premises.

Today Mrs. Smith will visit City Hall and enlist the co-operation of Mayor Bacharach and the members of the City Commission. She hopes through them to reach the national organizations of the resort and the people generally.

MINISTER WILL LEAVE WITH CAVALRY REGIMENT Rev. Robert O'Boyle Takes Up Duties Tomorrow as Chaplain

The Rev. Robert O'Boyle, pastor of St. John's Reformed Church, 40th and Spring Garden streets, chaplain of the First Cavalry Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, Knights Templar, for several years, will leave tomorrow morning for duty, unless sooner called to his regiment.

He was formerly chaplain of the 12th Infantry, and when it disbanded was made chaplain of the 1st Cavalry. He was also chaplain of the 1st Cavalry when it was reformed. He was pastor of the First Reformed Church, Sunbury, Pa., for 17 years, and came to St. John's Church January 1, 1914.

There are just as many opportunities, if not more, for the woman who studies law as there were when she took her degree, Mrs. Klinglesmith declares.

"I think success in any line is a matter of will," she said. "The woman lawyer must be willing to wait for success. It takes 20 years to get real recognition at the bar, and during that time there must be much sacrifice and hard work."

There are just as many opportunities, if not more, for the woman who studies law as there were when she took her degree, Mrs. Klinglesmith declares.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.

Men are just as willing to confer the palm of victory on a woman as they are to give it to a fellow man, according to this little lady's viewpoint.